

Dear Mrs., Parker,
Hi evryone at The Jenny Rose Center,

Since he finished his therapy mid april, Khaled is showing improvement in various aspects, but not at the same level:

Motor activity:

He walks at home straight, head up, steady and firmly, but out side home, he needs to be hold by hand. I think it will last for a short period and he will get rid of it when he get enough confidance of him self.

More patieny needed in training him to use his left hand fingers properly.

He is helping in some home afares, preparing table, bringing dishes, food and similars to dining room and back to kitchen. etc...

Serving him slef: fill water glass from the tab (water in our city disributed directly from spring to houses).

Mentally:

Showing improvement in thinking, trying to help others as well as participating in discussing their matters.

Participating in solving cross words with us.

Socially:

Involve him self in talking with other by phone or orally, but better by phone, meanwhile he meets, sometimes, dificulty in expressing him slef when he discuss with others.

Listning to news at TV and telling about what he heard.

Moraly:

Khaled becomes more optimist and social, he askes for visits, drives in car etc...

Generaly speaking, any one see him or hear him by hpone feels and tell us about the improvement of Khaled situation.
